How long is the Great Wall of China?

This photograph shows a section of the Great Wall of China, which was built during the Ming Dynasty. This section measures 8,851.8km long. It has 723 beacon towers, 7,062 lookout towers and 3,357 wall platforms.

1. If there was one person posted at every beacon tower, lookout tower and wall platform how many people would be needed?
2. Use the total calculated from question 1 to help with the following. If there was only one guard for every two towers and platforms, how many guards would be needed in all?
3. The Ming Dynasty section is only one part of the Great Wall. What would the length of the wall be if it turns out that this section is only half of the total length?

(Don't forget to show your working for each question)

ORIENTAL PEARL TOWER

1. The sightseeing floor of the tower is 263m from the ground. If you were on this floor, how far would you be from the highest point?
2. If you were half way up the tower how far from the ground would you be?
3. New Zealand's largest building the Sky Tower is 328m tall, how much taller is the Pearl?

Oriental Pearl Tower is a T.V tower in Shanghai. It is one of the tallest towers in China with the highest point being 468m from the ground

GREAT WALL OF CHINA STEAM CHALLENGE

The Great Wall of China is one of the greatest sights in the world — the longest wall in the world, an awe-inspiring feat of ancient defensive architecture. Its winding path over rugged country and steep mountains takes in some great scenery.

You will design and engineer a 'Great Wall' using equipment you have found from around your house.

It must be able to stand by itself. Measure it.
How tall is your wall? How long is your wall?
